

HALF A HUT GEM

The sound-absorbing house Half a Hut with an integrated table makes it even easier to quickly offer a workplace or a meeting room with space for your computer or notebook. Electrical outlets or other electrical products can advantageously be mounted in the table, but there are no pre-drilled holes. The house's simple and straight lines are inspired by the classic Monoply game and it's pieces, which gives a timeless shape for the popular and practical "room within a room" concept. Can be ordered with or without wheels.
